Dear Mrs. Cariati:

Since my call on you the other morning I have been trying to see whether we could use those wall cases. I am sorry to say that I do not see how we can make use of them as they are not the kind of case we could easily use and again they are too small. I have looked through our stock of cases and do not find that we have here the two cases like yours that youthought we possibly had here. I regret not being able to use your cases. Believe me

Very sincerely,
